DIRECTORY OF ILLINOIS MINERAL PRODUCERS, 1974

Compiled by

Ramesh Malhotra and Portia A. Smith

INTRODUCTION

The Illinois Mineral Producers Directory provides a quick reference list of companies that are actively involved in mining and processing mineral materials and in manufacturing products from such materials. Most of the mineral materials processed in Illinois were mined elsewhere. The materials used in manufacturing were largely mined in Illinois.

The information has been compiled mainly from the replies that were received in response to a questionnaire sent by the Illinois State Geological Survey to mineral producers in Illinois, with the exception of oil and gas operators.* Those who did not respond to the Survey's questionnaire but who did report mineral production for 1973 to the United States Bureau of Mines are also included in this directory and are identified with an asterisk (*).

Information about other operations listed was gathered from published sources, including the Illinois Manufacturers Directory; Bulletin 23 of the Illinois Division of Highways, "Sources and Producers of Aggregates for Highway Construction in Illinois"; Illinois Association of Aggregate Producers Directory, 1973-1974; and the Glass Factory Directory Issue of the American Glass Review for February 1974.

*Detailed information on crude oil and natural gas producers in Illinois can be found in the Illinois Oil and Gas Association's "Tri-State Oil Men's Directory (Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky)," 1973 edition (713 Main Street, Mt. Vernon, IL 62864) and the Illinois State Geological Survey's "Monthly Report of Oil and Gas Drilling in Illinois."

Government units, such as county or township highway departments, which may operate sand and gravel pits or stone quarries for their own use, are not listed, as they do not produce mineral materials for commercial sale.

To enable the user to locate desired information quickly, the directory is divided into three parts. In table 1 Illinois mineral producers are listed by the mineral commodity produced. In table 2 the same information is listed by county, and in table 3 all producers are listed alphabetically by company name.

Seven maps (figs. 1-7) showing the locations of the mineral operations are included at the end of the report. Copies of large-scale detailed maps of common sand and gravel producing operations (fig. 4), of limestone and dolomite quarries in Illinois (fig. 7), and of coal mines (fig. 1) are available upon request from the Illinois State Geological Survey, Natural Resources Building, Urbana, IL 61801.

Acknowledgments

The Illinois State Geological Survey is grateful to the mineral producers throughout Illinois who have provided information about their operations. The cooperation of the United States Bureau of Mines, the Illinois State Department of Mines and Minerals, and the Illinois Department of Transportation, Division of Highways, also proved invaluable.

MINERAL MATERIALS MINED, MINERAL MATERIALS PROCESSED, AND MINERAL PRODUCTS MANUFACTURED IN ILLINOIS

Coal, crude oil, natural gas, fluorspar ore, common sand and gravel, silica sand, limestone and dolomite (stone), clay and shale, tripoli, and peat were mined in Illinois in 1974. In addition to these, lead, zinc, silver, and barite were recovered as by-products from the fluorspar ore. Germanium, a minor by-product of the Illinois fluorspar-lead-zinc industry, was recovered by Eagle-Picher Industries, Inc., at its plant in Miami, Oklahoma. Because this producer does not operate in Illinois, germanium is not listed in table 1 as an Illinois mineral commodity. Some gem material and mineral specimens, primarily fluorspar, were collected and sold by individual collectors. Information regarding these individual collectors also is excluded from this directory.

Mineral materials mined in Illinois or elsewhere but processed in the state included barite, bismuth, cadmium, columbium, gypsum, iron ore, iron oxide pigments, perlite, rare earths, primary zinc, secondary zinc, sulfur, and vermiculite. Crude oil was processed at 12 petroleum refineries. At the Tuscola petrochemical plant in Douglas County, natural gas liquids were obtained by processing natural gas. Synthetic natural gas was produced from natural gas liquids at a plant in Minooka.

Mineral products manufactured in Illinois included cement, clay products and associated refractory products, coke, glass, and lime. Fly ash and bottom ash (the residue products from the burning of coal at electric generating plants) and slag (a residue produced during iron and steel making) were commercially marketed in Illinois in 1974.

Detailed information on annual quantity and value of mineral materials mined, mineral materials processed, and mineral products manufactured in Illinois is reported by the Illinois State Geological Survey in the Illinois Minerals Notes series of reports, which are updated and published annually.

*Did not respond to the Illinois State Geological Survey questionnaire, but 1973 production has been reported by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

†More detailed and current information on coal producers in Illinois can be obtained from the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals, 704 State Office Building, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

‡As of January 1, 1975, according to the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals, these mines have been temporarily or permanently shut down.

All coke plants in Illinois are "furnace" plants, owned by iron and steel companies whose principal business is producing blast-furnace coke for their own use.
